Welcome...

Firstly, thank you for choosing Better Bathrooms. We have always lived by our philosophy of always striving to be better.

Better Prices, Better Service, Better Bathrooms.

But it doesn't stop there, we want to be better every day in every aspect of our customer experience and the way we do business.

What makes us better? Well we ask that every day and the facts are proof in our commitment to our customers and tradesmen.

We know that it is important for our customers to see and touch our products and understand the quality, that's why we decided to open the largest bathroom & tile showrooms in the UK. We listen to our customers and understand your weekends are valuable, so we decided to open later than any other bathroom retailer, every night in the week, allowing you to spend that valuable time doing things you really enjoy. We also know that when you call our business, you want advisors whom have in-depth product knowledge, this is why when you call our sales line to ask a question or place an order, it is important for you to speak to our showrooms directly rather than a call center.

Going the extra mile and being better is why we have won 28 awards and I am proud to say that's exactly 27 more than our nearest competitor. This is proof of why we are The Better Way.

- The product(s) MUST be freely available for collection or delivery
- The total price includes any shipping charges

- Because we are not the expert fitters, just the expert product providers.
- Because we keep our prices low so you can afford to have your dream bathroom fitted – no hidden costs, no 'free fitting' gimmicks.
- Because there are 000's of experts out there that can help our customers locally, with years of experience, whom Better Bathrooms like to support across the UK.

Results: If you answered...

Mostly A

Your ideal bathroom is all about minimalist chic. Clean lines, no clutter and modern textures. To get your perfect bathroom, make sure you have plenty of storage to keep your surfaces clear, and splash out on taps - you can go for a plain white suite and really make a statement. Or opt for the ultimate in simplicity - a walk through shower or wetroom.

Mostly B

Style meets functionality - that's the sort of bathroom for you. A combined bath/shower with a glass screen is a must - it makes the most of space - along with a cool but understated toilet and sink. A console sink with high rise tap or a pair of basins to keep mornings calm would be ideal - uncluttered, luxurious but practical.

Mostly C

Classic elegance is just the thing for you. Take a look at traditional style sanitary ware that are style classics - think claw-footed freestanding baths, high level toilets, ornate taps - and fabulous tiles. And don't forget that beautiful chair you've had your eye on.

Mostly D

Your home is all about a place for living - not about the latest gadgets or sleekest design. Pick something you like that is also hardwearing and leaves plenty of space to store everything. Think about under floor heating and heated towel rails to keep you all cosy. But don't be too utilitarian. Splash out on something indulgent just for fun!

Plan your space...

When you have decided on the bathroom suite you really like, use this planner to measure out your space – don't forget to bring with you to the showroom the following information:

- Length, Width & Height of your bathroom
- What water system do you have?
EG: Combination boiler/Gravity Fed/Pumped
- Can waste water from a bath or shower be taken underneath your floorboards?
- Likely time for project start?
EG: Asap/this week/this month?

Bathroom Suites Explained...

Making Space

Since the average British bathroom is about 2.5m x 1.8m (8ft x 6ft) bathroom, it's often the smallest room in the house. But having a smaller bathroom doesn't mean you have to compromise on style or functionality - you just need to use your imagination to get the best out of it.

Bathroom Suites

To feel comfortable in a room, there needs to be a certain amount of breathing space. It's difficult to enjoy a bathroom if everytime you turn around to shut the shower door, you bump into the sink.

Everyone will have a different idea of how much space is enough, but as a rule of thumb, it's a good idea to allow around 70cm in front of a toilet or sink, and around a metre in front of the bath.

Cloakroom Suites

Smaller suites are a must for small bathrooms. Petite sinks and toilets are a great way to get everything you need in, without being completely cramped.

Look at where they are located as well - a corner sink is a space saving wonder, and a wall hung toilet is perfect to create the illusion of space.

Toilets

When choosing the best match for your bath or simply looking to update your cloakroom, we will have the perfect solution right here for you.

30 Toilets

33 Wall Hung Toilets & Back to Wall Toilets

36 Close Coupled Toilets

Toilets Explained...

Close Coupled Toilet

This is the most common and popular choice of toilet and it is easy to see why. These toilets look lovely and they are very compact. The cistern is mounted directly on to the bowl of the toilet and there are no visible pipes. This loo won't take up much space and it is also very easy to access the cistern should you have any problems.

These toilets will fit well into smaller spaces as they are so compact. To save even more space, choose a corner close coupled toilet.

Back to Wall Toilet

You can maximise space in your bathroom with a back-to-wall toilet - the cistern is concealed either behind the pan, a piece of furniture or a stud wall. The sleek look of this toilet will create a sense of continuity and works fantastically in a modern room. You can also choose this toilet in a more classic style, and you can accessorise with a wooden finished seat and lid for that traditional feel.

Wall Hung Toilet

Similar to a back-to-wall toilet as the cistern is not visible, however, these toilets do not have any pipes on show at all and are attached to the wall and hover above the floor.

These loos are brilliant for smaller spaces as they take up little room and the minimal design works perfectly in a modern bathroom.

Short on Space?

In our Cloakroom suites section we have made it even easier for you by coupling up our matching basins with the toilets!

See page 12

High and low level Toilet

For a more traditional look, consider a high level toilet. The cistern is fitted higher up on the wall and connected to the pan with a long pipe. This classic design looks stunning and works wonderfully in both large and small rooms - the raised cistern is out of the way and will also create a sense of openness. Similarly, the cistern on a low level toilet is attached with a pipe, however it is positioned closer to the toilet bowl, making it a more compact design.

This can work well if you want a traditional look to your bathroom but have low ceilings or need the space above the cistern for shelving or cabinets.

Top Tip

Don't be embarrassed! Always take a seat in our showrooms to ensure it is the right toilet for you.

Put a lid on it

When you are adding the finishing touches to your new bathroom, don't forget that your toilet can also be accessorised to match the look of your room. For modern rooms, clean white seats and lids will work with a minimal and fresh look, and the smooth curves or soft-closed lids will maintain a sense of continuity in your room. An added bonus is that these lids will not slam closed meaning there will be less noise and less damage to your seat and pan. Wooden seats with polished finishes fit in perfectly with classically-styled rooms. A dark oak lid will make your toilet a lovely focal point and will blend in nicely if you have wood elsewhere - match the style of wood to your bath panels or the colour of your door and window frames.

A straight flush

You can choose the style and position of your flush to make it a statement piece. Circular or a sleek oval style can be positioned on the top of your cistern, on the front or even in the wall. For high level toilets, a long chain will probably work best. The look and feel of your flush isn't the only thing to consider - think about the environment too! An average flush uses approximately 13 litres of water. If you were to only flush the loo once a day you could save up to 2,190 gallons of water a year - but we won't ask you to do that! Instead, consider a dual flush for your toilet. These flushes have two buttons for a light and a heavy flush, which will save water - and, if you're on a water meter, will save you money too.

Basins Explained

Wall Hung Basins

From striking design features to clever little space savers, our range of wall hung ceramic basins includes something for every bathroom and every budget. Or, make a statement with one of our eye-catching super-size wall hung basins.

Semi & Full Pedestal Basins

Pedestal basins are great for larger bathrooms and for a more traditional look, or statement. They also offer the perfect solution if your walls are not able to support a wall hung basin. Equally, they hide any exposed pipe work and waste, keeping your bathroom clean lined and pipe free. Semi pedestals free up floor space to create the illusion of space, so if your bathroom is small and you like the full pedestal, we would recommend a semi pedestal.

Counter Top Basins

Make a ceramic counter top the focal point of your bathroom or ensuite, or inject some style into the downstairs loo. Choose from round, oval, square or rectangular and look out for quirky style setters such as Garda and Arabella or a traditional favourite such as Sydney or Pacific.

Corner Basins

For an ensuite or cloakroom, a corner basin is a great way of saving space and maintaining the same great look and functionality.

Sharing Basins

Perfect for busy bathrooms, a double basin can halve the time and halve the stress, while looking great!

Top Tip

Don't forget to complete the look with the perfect tap match – see page 128 for Taps.

Don't forget your splash back tiles – we have over 5 million tile, visit bettertiles.com for more details.

Furniture

From bath bombs and bottles to toys and toothbrushes, there are all sorts of bits and bobs which belong in the bathroom. And when you've put so much thought and care into creating your perfect space, the last thing you want is clutter.

With our ranges of stylish furniture and carefully crafted cabinets, you can find a place for everything.

Furniture Explained...

What works for you? Whether you've got a lot or a little to store, a big family bathroom or a small en-suite, there's a cabinet option that's perfect for you.

The Space-saver

In smaller bathrooms, even a little bit of clutter can take up valuable space. With soaps and shampoos crammed into the shower caddy and towels piled up on the hook, before you know it there's no room to move - let alone relax!

That's where our space-saving options come in. A corner cabinet, for example, is a great way to use an otherwise unoccupied nook, and mirrored doors make them multi-purpose too. Alternatively, make the most of your wall space with a long, tall cabinet or fitted shelves. Many of our models have slim profiles, and you might be surprised at how much you can fit in!

Room for it all

Big families can accumulate a lot. There's the kids' toys - the bath crayons, the novelty sponges, the wind-up frogs - as well as all your lotions and potions. There's towels and toothbrushes, tubs and tubes, and they all need somewhere to go.

If you've got loads of stuff to stash, you might want to consider one of our three-piece furniture suites. This will give you plenty of space and will create a harmonised look across the bathroom. You could even dedicate a different use for every piece - store the kids' stuff in a tall cabinet and keep the 2-door vanity unit for all your accessories.

Stylish Storage

If you've spent a long time perfecting the look of your bathroom, it's a shame to spoil the effect with a jumble of bottles, pots and knickknacks - and the last thing you want is a clunky cabinet. But storage doesn't have to be boring; there are lots of ways to keep things neat and tidy in style.

Baths Explained

Freestanding Baths

If you have the space then the freestanding bath is always a favoured option when it comes to making a statement piece for your dream bathroom.

Tip - Remember your freestanding taps to finish off the look.

Straight Baths

A straight bath is both practical and a great space saver in your bathroom. If space is an issue, why not add a shower to a single ended bath to free up even more space. Tip - add a glass shower screen for that finishing touch.

L & P Shaped Baths

Like defined or soft edges? Either way we have this covered. These baths offer the practicality of a straight bath, with that added space to have a shower in comfort.

Corner Baths

From compact space saving ideas that tuck neatly away in the corner of your bathroom, through to luxury whirlpool designs, these baths add a touch of luxury to your daily soak and are available in various sizes to suit your room and your budget.

Left or right handed bath, which one do you need?

When choosing a straight, L or P shaped bath, you need to make sure you order the correct style to fit in the corner of your bathroom. The examples pictured left shows left and right handed shower baths and to distinguish which one is which, stand at the foot of the bath and look down the length, the protruding area will be to one side and at the furthest point away from you.

Feel like you are in a spa with the ultimate in luxury design. And with various jets and sizes available, you're guaranteed to find your perfect bath.

---

Showers Explained

---

Electric Showers

Electric showers heat water as they go, meaning they only need a cold water supply. They are a relatively inexpensive option and you get everything together in one unit.

Power Showers

Power showers mix hot and cold water supplies and have a built-in pump. They work with gravity fed or low pressure water systems and use more water than other options.

All in One

A neat and simple option is a cleverly designed shower column that combines an overhead shower with body jets and valves in one unit.

Mixer Showers

Mixer showers work well in homes that have a good supply of hot water and high water pressure. They mix hot and cold water to give you a constant temperature when you shower.

Top Tip

If space is at a premium, vertical radiators are a great choice. Styles range from traditional - to contemporary, with a choice of finishes and colours. For bigger spaces or homes with poor insulation, smooth horizontal radiators guarantee comfort and elegance.

All About BTU's

The efficiency of radiators is measured in British Thermal Units (BTU's). If your room is large, it would be best to go for a higher BTU as more heat is generated. We also have Heated Towel Rails with lower BTU's to suit smaller rooms.

4. Making a Claim

If you wish to make a claim under the terms of this Extended Guarantee then you should contact the Better Bathroom Customer Services Department as follows:

4.1 Call 0333 777 4777 and ensure you have the following details to hand:

4.1.1 proof and date of purchase.

4.1.2 your contact details.

4.1.3 postcode where the unit is installed.

4.1.4 photos of the fault - Better Bathrooms may request that these are provided to assist with assessing your complaint.

4.2 Better Bathrooms reserves the right, and must be offered the opportunity to inspect the complaint in situ and, where applicable, if at all possible in situ as first installed, and we will need to see our applicable batch and delivery note details.

4.3 The Better Bathrooms Customer Services Department will be able to tell you whether the fault can be simply rectified by the provision of a replacement part or arrange an on site visit by an engineer of Better Bathrooms' choosing.

4.4 If a service call is required it will be booked and the date of the call confirmed. You or a representative (over the age of 18 years) must be present during the entire engineers visit.

4.5 A charge will be made in the event of an aborted service call by you, but not by us, or where a call under the terms of the Extended Guarantee has been booked and failure is not related to product supplied by Better Bathrooms (i.e. Scaling and furring, incorrect water pressure, or other plumbing problem unrelated to the normal function of the components).

4.6 If the Qualifying Product is no longer covered by the Extended Guarantee, a charge will be made for the site visit and for any parts supplied.

4.7 If the Qualifying Product concerned proves to our reasonable satisfaction not to be defective, or you give us the wrong batch or delivery note details, we will be entitled to make a reasonable charge for our efforts in establishing whether they fall within our obligations under our Extended Guarantee and liability statement.

4.8 Service charges are based on the account being settled when work is complete, the engineer will then request payment for the invoice. If this is not made to the service engineer or settled within ten working days, an administration charge will be added.

5. Exclusions to your Extended Guarantee

Your Extended Guarantee does not include the provision of or the rectification of:

Normal maintenance services and the repair and replacement of consumable items such as toilet seats, accessories, wastes and traps, cistern fittings, batteries, fluorescent tubes, light bulbs, fuses, electrical connections, filters, shower hoses, tap and shower cartridges and tap washers;
